THE PRESSURE.—On Wednesday night Memorials, praying for the restoration of the deposits, containing the signatures of about two thousand persons, obtained that day, were forwarded to our Representative in Congress, the Honorable Harmar Denny. Others will be forwarded in a few days. Indeed there seems to be but one opinion here upon this subject. Honest industrious men are not willing to submit to distress and embarrassment to gratify the malice, or to aid the dishonest schemes of the Kitchen Cabinet.

The Advocate, of this morning, has a long article in reply to an alleged complaint of ours about the appointment of old federalists to office, by President Jackson, and even gives the ground of our complaint.

Now, the truth is, we made no objection—we uttered no complaint—we simply stated the fact, that the head of every department at Washington, save one, was an old federalist. We made not one word of comment. We mentioned it to induce our readers to reflect upon the absurdity of the slang about democracy, and to draw their attention to the fact, that the same game is playing at Washington now, that has been played in this county for seventeen years past—keeping up a constant cry of Democracy, and Democrat, for the sole benefit and behoof of Federalists.

Large meetings have been held in Ireland, and O'Connell has promised the abolition of tithes, if a large number of petitions can be procured.

Meetings have been called in different parts of England, with a view of petitioning the king to call Parliament together, to remove the window and house tax.—The opposition to what is called assessed taxes, is increasing.

The Madrid Gazette officially announces that the Spanish government has ceased all its diplomatic relations with Don Miguel, and will hereafter confine itself to a mediation between the two brothers. The just inference from this article is, that Don Carlos and Don Miguel are acting in concert, and that the Queen of Spain regards them both alike, her enemies.

The Bank of France having commenced an action in the tribunal of Premiere Instance against the Civil List, for a sum of 1,000,000 of francs, remaining due from M. Lafitte, on bond guaranteed by the King, the cause came to a hearing on Saturday. M. Dupin, as advocate of the civil list, resisted the demand, on the ground that as the guarantee was pure and simple, the civil list had a right to insist, in virtue of the terms of the code, that the whole of the property of the debtor should be distrained and sold before recourse was had to the joint security; with which argument the court concurred, and decreed that as the joint security had not renounced the claim to have the property of the original debtor distrained and sold, but, on the contrary, had formally reserved this right, in the receipt taken for the first payment on account, the Bank of France was bound to exhaust the assets of the original debtor, fixing provisionally the expenses of such proceedings at 5,000 francs, and also condemned the bank in costs.

A bronze statue of Mr. Jefferson, late President of America, as modelled by M. David, has been cast by M. Honore Gonon, of Paris. It represents the President in his natural attitude and usual dress, and is full of dignity. Mr. Jefferson was six feet two inches high, and the statue has the same dimensions. It is to be placed in one of the squares at Philadelphia, and will be embarked at Havre on the 24th inst.

The king of Bavaria published on the 7th inst. an ordinance founded on a ministerial rescript of 29th Oct. The first article of this ordinance forbids all carriages, no matter to whom they belong, and all riders on horseback, to pass carriages in which their Majesties are; and when the king is on horseback it is forbidden to pass or remain before his Majesty.—The second article orders all carriages and horsemen who may meet their Majesties, to draw up immediately, and halt till they have passed by.

By the accounts from Rome we learn that great agitation prevailed in the Papal cabinet, and that three of the cardinals were about leaving the capital! Cardinal Castracani for Parma, Modena, and Tuscany; Cardinal Jalsacappa for Turin; and Cardinal Odescalatie for Vienna. The object of their missions was believed to be for the purpose of forming an Italian Confederation, which was recommended by the northern powers.

An article from Italy states that the duke of Lucca, a member of the Bourbon family, having protested against the change in the succession to the throne of Spain, the Queen Regent has deemed it expedient to withhold the payment of the revenue he has hitherto received from Spain, until he shall have acknowledged her daughter's rights to the crown.

The Paris Temps contains the following—Some of the legitimatists whisper that the journey of M. de Bourmount, jun., to Prague, relates to a project for a marriage between the Duchess of Berri's daughter, and one of the sons of Don Carlos, but it is not stated whether it is the Generalissimo or the High Admiral. They hope by this to throw interminable difficulties in the way of the Spanish government, and even of the French Cabinet."

The manufactories of St. Etienne and St. Chamend, are left more than half unemployed from the combination of the workmen, and so great is the uncertainty of completing orders by any given time, that the English, American, and German merchants have been obliged to send their commands for silk goods, particularly for plain ribbons, to Switzerland, which will thus profit by the stagnation created by the foolish conduct of the workmen in France.

According to accounts from Bordeaux, the journeymen tailors of that town and Bayonne have followed the example of their brother snips of the capital, striking for wages.

From Bell's Messenger, of the 24th.

We have every reason to believe that the state of the coinage, or circulating medium, in some of the West India Islands, affords a profit for the exporters of bullion; it is no new circumstance, but we find that, within a day or two, silver, in bars and coin, has been entered outwards, for the island of Nevis, to the amount of 100,000 ounces. This fact is worthy the attention of government, and especially of the Colonial Department, at a period when it is considered that an excessive drainage of coin for the continent most materially affects the circulation of the Bank of England.—It therefore appears highly necessary that the circulation of the colonies should be placed upon a footing to support, rather than to draw upon, the monetory resources of the mother country. This remark may safely be concluded, by inquiring whether our modern free trade theorists have ever turned their attention to the important question of improving the condition of the circulating medium of our colonies?

As proof of the extent to which the exportation of bullion is at present going on, it may be mentioned that one vessel alone, in the course of last week, conveyed to Calais 40,000 ounces of gold, and 277,000 ounces of silver. The operation cannot be a profitable one, and is most probably, therefore, a precautionary one, entered into to prevent the threatened decline of the exchanges.

A meeting of the subscribers was held at Lloyd's on Thursday, to take into consideration the propriety of voting the sum of 1,000*l.* for the purpose of assisting the establishment of a new registry for shipping. An amendment was moved that the amount should be doubled, but the original motion was carried by a great majority. A meeting will be held on Wednesday next to confirm the vote.

By a private letter from Bilboa, we learn that a French corvette appeared off the port, and the French Consul demanded that she should be permitted to enter for the protection of French property, which was refused by the authorities; but, in consequence of the threats of the commander to fire immediately upon the town, and the appearance of an English vessel for the protection of British property, the authorities at last assented.

Bell's Weekly Messenger observes, "We have never been one amongst those writers who have deemed it justifiable to excite public alarm, and to raise unreasonable apprehensions upon circumstances in no degree warranting them. But when we look around upon Europe in the present period, we ourselves cannot but entertain some strong fears. The state of Spain is very far different from what it is represented to be by the government papers of France and England. We have never disguised it from our readers, that the party of Don Carlos is very formidable, and that the Queen can only maintain herself on the throne by embracing the part of the radicals, and calling in the aid of France. Now it is very doubtful whether the Russian and Prussian governments would not upon this event declare immediate war. If France should attempt this direct interference in the affairs of Spain, Russia most certainly would either not permit it, or would immediately indemnify herself by imitating the example of her ambitious rival, and seize upon Turkey upon the pretext that France is about to seize upon Spain. Either of these cases would lead to a general war.

Such is the ground of our own apprehensions. Indeed, upon all sides, the state of things is full of much complication and difficulty. Though it be the interest of Prussia, to stop, if possible, the aggrandizement of Russia, and therefore, in this point of view, not further to irritate France, nor to disqualify her from being an efficient check and control against the Emperor Nicholas, yet Prussia has still a nearer object—that of not suffering France herself to become such a powerful neighbor as might endanger the existence of the Prussian Monarchy. Austria has the same feeling; a strong and reasonable jealousy of the designs of the Emperor Nicholas, and an apprehension not less just of the growing power of France, and of the progress of the liberal or rather radical cause. Much, very much, depends on the turn which the Spanish officers may take.

ANTWERP, Nov. 15.—This morning, about nine o'clock, a warehouse, in which were many thousand chests of sugar and bales of coffee, give way under the enormous weight. Several workmen were buried under the ruins. Ten have been taken out; four were dead, aud six severely wounded. Great exertions are making to find the others. The number of victims is not yet known.

MUNICH, Nov. 8.—The Prince of Sayer Wittgenstein, High Chamberlain of the Grand Duke of Hesse Darmstadt, and the Chamberlain, Baron Von Ridejel, having returned from their visit to the Queen Dowager at Tengernsee, will go in state to Court this week, to solicit in form the hand of Princess Matilda. The marrage will certainly take place this month. The Hereditary Grand Duke will come here in a fortnight, and reside in the east wing of the palace, which was accupied last year by king Otho.

CHICHESTER, Nov. 13.—A most severe shock of an earthquake was experienced this morning about twenty minutes before four, by the inhabitants of this city, attended with a loud rumbling noise, the shock was so great, that it caused the town clock as well as many others to strike. At a quarter before six, a second shock was felt, but not so violent as the first. This is the third shock of an earthquake which has been felt in this neighborhood within these three months.

PORTUGAL.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 25.—His Majesty's steamer Columbia, Lieut. Ede, arrived on Friday at Falmouth, with letters from Lisbon and Oporto—from the former place so late as Sunday last. It appears that the rival armies continued without any change in their relative positions, and much doubt existed as to when the Constitutionalists would make the attempt to dispossess the Royalists, now within the fortifications of Santarem. The Pedroites have only as yet succeeded in taking a few flour mills from their opponents. The latest accounts which have reached Lisbon from Alemtejo, continued unfavorable—the reinforcements are understood to prove insufficient for the preservation of order. Don Pedro had gone down to St. Ubes. The intelligence from Oporto by his arrival is unimportant. The attack threatened by the General, Count D'Alma, had not taken place. A levy en masse had been ordered at Lisbon.

SPAIN.

The Paris papers of Thursday and Thursday evening have reached us by express. They are, as usual, filled with a number of perplexing details upon the occurrences in Spain, from which it is only possible to gather, that no material change has taken place in the position of the hostile parties since the preceding advices. Despatches from Madrid, dated the 13th inst., had been received by the French Government on Wednesday afternoon, at which date it was not known in the Spanish capital whether or not General Sarsfield, "whose army had been reinforced," had achieved any thing of importance. Don Carlos had been proclaimed in Valencia by a body of insurgents, amounting to between 200 and 300 men, but who, having been surrounded by the Queen's troops, subsequently laid down their arms. The Royalist volunteers, who had left Valencia, in order to raise the population, had failed in that object and dispersed.

The accounts from Bilboa are of the 15th, when the Carlists were still in possession, and trying to obtain a new loan of £160,000. They were, however, behaving with great mildness to the late authorities of the place, who still remained in prison. The capture of a French vessel by the insurgents' privateers is now denied. A letter from Bayonne of the 17th, states that a brisk cannonade had been heard there the preceding day, which was supposed to proceeed from St. Sebastian, upon which the insurgents, in great force, had made an assault. Madrid, Barcelona, and the whole of Catalonia and Arragon are said to be tranquil, but upon all these matters Paris was inundated with the most contradictory reports.

From the Dumfries (Scottish) Journal.

AMERICAN COLONIZATION SOCIETY.

The friends of the Dumfries Liberian Society lie under no necessity of defending the conduct of their American fellow laborers with the view of recommending to the favor of the public the principles which they themselves have adopted, because the plan of colonizing the coast of Africa with free blacks, viewed as a British object, must stand or fall on its own merits, as the means of civilizing and Christianizing that injured continent, whatever may be the views of its Transatlantic supporters. But it is undoubtedly a matter of no trifling importance to be able to show that the arguments by which an attempt has been made to prejudice the public mind against the Society in which this admirable scheme originated, are altogether void of any solid foundation. One of the most imposing and influential of these arguments, as our readers are aware, is that the Colonization Society, under the show of promoting the interests of the Free Blacks, was in fact covertly supporting slavery in America, the object of many of its advocates being, as is alleged, to get quit of the one class that they may have it in their power more closely to rivet the chains round the limbs of the other. There seemed to be something so very preposterous in this statement that it never made any impression on our own mind, more especially, knowing as we did the benevolent and Christian source in which the Society took its rise. We have indeed been enabled in more than one instance to afford direct evidence that the opponents of the Colonization scheme in the U. States take up ground directly the reverse of its opponents on this side of the Atlantic: and that whilst this scheme excites in Britain the hostility of the ultra abolitionists from an apprehension that its operations favor the cause of slavery; it excites in America the virulent hostility of the slaveholders from a well founded conviction that it is sapping the very foundation of the system on which the oppressions of the white man are founded. To the documents we have already published in proof of this opinion, we are happy to add another, copied from the Columbia, a South Carolina paper, in the interests of the slaveholders. The article in question is headed "Colonization is Abolition;" and, after inserting an excellent letter of Professor Porter in favor of the Colonization Society, the Editor goes on to say—

"Such disclaimers as this should not clear up the Southern distrust of Northern interference with the dangerous, nay, fatal subject. Dangerous, we mean to Southern tranquillity—fatal to the present political connection between the North and us. What care we for disclaimers while the incendiary work goes on; or of what value are the disavowals of the politic, while these very men are, perhaps, all the while the most dangerous promoters of all that can work us mischief? The universal ground upon which these people place their assurances to us, is the Constitution of the United States. Do they mean to mock us? Which of our rights that the majority ever thought it worth their while to invade did the constitution ever secure us in? * * *

Another equally general ground of their defence is, that they are not in favor of Mr. Garrison's plans—that they are advocates and zealous promoters of colonization. This it seems ought to satisfy the South. And yet, which of these two plans is most dangerous to us? which has done us most hurt? Not that of the open and direct abolitionists certainly. If slave property is made insecure—if the quiet and content of the negro is chased away—if the timid among our own people catch the alarm, and by their weakness assist the efforts for injuring our property and lessening our safety—we owe it, not to the wild fanatics whose notions our people can in no sort adopt, but to that other and subtler plan, which, while equally impracticable as to what it aims it, yet allures men into it merely by seeming to offer a middle way. It is utterly incapable of effecting the object it avows in the South. It does promote in the best possible manner—the only possible manner, the scheme of its rival—the scheme which in the South it disavows. The North prefer it, not because it does not aim at abolition, but because it offers the surest and speediest means of accomplishing it. To that its operations are rapidly leading. If the present union continues, that Society will go on enlarging, extending itself, making fresh converts, organizing a larger and larger army of beggars and preachers, whose zeal will grow with their success, and with the fame and gain of the enterprize. The negroes they cannot remove, except just enough to disquiet the rest. How should half a nation be removed 3,000 miles. But the Society will go on, till by spreading a wider and fiercer zeal, by rendering the negro restless, by making his labor unprofitable, it will at last drive the master in mere despair, to try the mad and sudden remedy which all this was preparing.—Then will come avowed and direct abolition, under the auspices of this very Society."

We do not know that a single word more is necessary in order to show the utter injustice of the attack which has been made on the American Colonization Society on the ground of their being abettors of slavery. Here is a most zealous and thorough paced advocate of the slave system who proves to demonstration that the very opposite is the true view of the subject; and that the friends of slavery have not more dangerous enemies than that Society.

The Salem Gazette mentions four remarkable instances of individuals in that town who paid their debts, principal and interest, after having been released from them in consequence of insolvency. The first was a member of the Society of Friends, the second an Unitarian, the third an "Orthodox Deacon," and the fourth a Baptist. The Editor specifies the religious profession of each, to show that virtue is not confined to any sect. The examples are certainly most honorable to the individuals, and they reflect credit upon the community where they occur.—Balt. Gaz.

The bank transactions of certain Editors and Members of Congress, have afforded to the Editors of the Globe and other kindred prints, abundant matter for comment—and private accounts were paraded before the public to substantiate the rediculous charge against the Bank of the United States, of bribery and corruption. Now, if the deposits should be permitted to remain in the State Banks, would it not be well to subject their accounts to a committee or an agent of Congress? No objection can be urged to the exercise of this power by Congress, if the examination can be ordered by the Secretary of the Treasury. We should like to have an exhibit from the pet banks laid before the public, that it might be seen how much certain members of government were indebted to them. Amos Kendall has acknowledged that he is laboring under a load of debt, and perhaps he may have found it necessary to seek the aid of the pet banks. His accounts with such banks are as fair a subject for scrutiny and exposure, as those of Editors with the U. S. Bank; and perhaps were not as honestly raised. As for the Editor of the Globe, (F. P. Blair,) as he is in the receipt of seventy five thousand dollars a year for advertising for government, it can hardly be supposed that he stands in need of bank accommodations—unless he means to discharge such debts as he did before, by returning hundreds where he borrowed thousands.—Balt. Chron.

New York State Finances.—The condition of our State Treasury is much in the situation as that of Maj. Barry's department in the General Government. In one word, the State Treasury is bankrupt. The Comptroller informs us that to defray the ordinary expenses of the Government, he has expended $266,561 35 of the General Fund, and borrowed $83,140 83 of the Bank Safcty Fund; and that notwithstanding this summary mode of "raising the wind," there is a deficeincy in the treasury to the amount of $46,557 11. Total of expenditures for supporting the Regency government, $366,268 29. For the ensuing year, the "spoils" to be derived from a further sacrifice of the General Fund, is estimated at $188,500 00.—The expenses of the government are prospectively estimated at $322,047 24—bearing a further anticipated deficit of $133,547 24. "Hail Columbia."—N. Y. Com. Adv.

Post Office.—There is said to be great embarrassment in the Post Office Department, which is supposed to be involved to an amount not less than a million of dollars! That department has been borrowing from Banks, overdrawing, and is indebted still, it is said, largely to Contractors. The practice of allowing, in that Department, extra compensation to Contractors, is a species of favoritism, extravagance, corruption, and abuse, requiring correction. It is to no purpose that contracts are advertised—bids are proposed, one nominally the lowest is accepted, and then afterwards to favor, the contract varied in some trivial circumstance or material one, and then there is to be an allowance at the will of the Post Master General.

The amount of these extra allowances by the Post Master General, to Mail Contractors, during the last year, is $345,000

In the State of Virginia alone, there is allowed $78,919

In Pennsylvania, for the same time, $38,453

The extra allowance to all the New England States does not exceed $5,000.

In Virginia, E. Porter & Co. were by contract to receive $25,436 00.

They were allowed an extra compensation of 28,232 00.

The patronage of this Department is alarmingly great, when we consider the host of Mail Contractors in its service, to which there is to be added the appointment of upwards of ten thousand Post Masters throughout the Union.

The Executive Department of our Government is becoming so tremendously powerful, that it should awaken all the vigilance and jealousy of the people, to the conduct of their Rulers, lest, under the pretensions of simplifying the Government, there should be fixed on us a Despotism.—Chambersburgh Repos.

APPEAL FOR THE POOR.

Rarely have we seen such truth in poetry, or such poetry in truth, as we find in the beautiful and touching hymn, by L. M. Sargent, Esq., to be sung this evening, at the annual meeting of the Howard Benevolent Society (sermon by Rev. Mr. Stow.) Let it speak for itself.

God of the rolling year—thy power
Expands the germ, unfolds the flower;
Matures, at last, the golden grain;
And then restores the iron reign
Of dreary winter, drearier still
To those whom age and penury chill.

Thy power of frost has locked the ground,
And streams in icy chains are bound;
Spare thou the heart of man below,
And bid the fount of pity flow.
Speed, Lord, thy backward stewards on,
Till mercy's holy work be done.

The board, with costly viands spread,
The blazing hearth, the downy bed—
God, thou art just!—what mortal dare
Call these his own, for thine they are!
Speed, Lord, thy backward stewards on,
Till mercy's holy work be done.

The hand that won that orphan's bread,
Is laid in slumber with the dead.
The barefoot boy, 'mid winter skies,
From door to door his labor plies.
Speed, Lord, thy backward stewards on,
Till mercy's holy work be done.

Loud howls the storm, 'tis cold and late,
The shiv'ring outcast tries the gate;
The backward steward of the poor
Turns down his light, and bars the door.
Speed, Lord, thy backward stewards on,
Till mercy's holy work be done.

LOUISVILLE HOTEL.

THIS new and splendid establishment, situated on Main street, has been leased of the Louisville Hotel Company by the subscribers, for a term of years, and they feel no hesitation in saying that the entire arrangement of this Hotel, for extent of accommodation, elegance, and comfort, are not surpassed by any Hotel in the United States. Its location is pleasant and airy, and but a few moments' walk from the steam boats. The house contains nearly 200 apartments, most of which have fire places; and has a private entrance, leading to thirty suits of rooms, expressly arranged for the accommodation of families—has also seventy single lodging rooms. The establishment is furnished in the best modern style, and the Wines and Liquors have been selected with great care from the most celebrated vaults in New York and Boston. The proprietors, grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed on the different establishments they have been connected with in the eastern cities, hope, by their experience and personal attention, to gain for this Hotel a reputation equal to any in America. The Hotel was opened for the reception of transient and permanent boarders on the 1st of December.

FAIRBANK'S PLATFORM SCALES.

THESE scales are constructed upon an improved principle; are fitted up with great care by the manufacturers, and warranted to weigh with accuracy from half a pound to 12,000. Being placed in, and forming part of, the floor, the process of weighing is performed with ease and facility, while the space they occupy may be improved as a passage way or for other purposes.

The construction of these scales is such that they are little liable to derangement of wear, and their perfect operation will be guaranteed for any reasonable length of time.

The usual objection, that a new method of weighing cannot be safely entrusted to unskilful hands, is obviated by the use of the improved BALANCE, concerning which are the following remarks in the Journal of the Frankiin Institute, of the state of Pennsylvania, for the promotion of the Mechanic Arts, for June, 1833. (Edited by Thos. P. Jones, M. D., late Superintendent of the Patent Office, at Washington, Professor of Mechanics in the Franklin Institute, &c.

"The Messrs. Fairbanks, some time since, obtained a patent for a Platform Weighing Machine, and this mode of adjuating and graduating the Beam of the Balance, and the weights, was devised by them with a view to its employment with the before mentioned machine. We have had an opportunity of examining one of their balances, and have been much pleased with it: this examination, however, was not necessary to the conviction that it possesses a just claim to the character of a real improvement, the whole arrangement being so simple as to enable any person to perceive that it is well adapted to the purpose contemplated, that of facilitating the business of weighing, and more especially of heavy articles."

The subscriber, as Agent, will receive orders for the above Scales, which will be made in this city to order. They can be seen at his Warehouse, No. 84, Front street.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S

☞WELCH MEDICAMENTUM.☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

UTICA, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer s vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

GEO. W. CARPENTER'S
COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes givingt emporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradully increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.
